CITY OFFICIAL PAPER

D. E. O'KEEFE, Editor and Proprietor

For Governor,
JOHN D. FREDERICKS.

CALIFORNIA'S OPPORTUNITY.

That Captain John D. Fredericks is constantly receiving assurances of support in his campaign for governor from men prominent in the ranks of the Democratic party is not a matter for surprise. Among thinking citizens, without regard to party affiliation, it is admitted that the best interests of the state demand that there should be a return to safe and sound principles of government. If California is to receive the full advantage of the opportunities for business progress which its situation promises for the next few years, it must be in a position to command the confidence of the business world—investors must be made to feel that business enterprises in which they are invited to invest their capital are free from danger of molestation or destruction by freak legislation of the demagogue.

Under present political conditions in the state, Captain Fredericks is the logical man to whose support those desirous of seeing a return to these conditions should rally. Registration figures show beyond a doubt that the Democratic party is in a hopeless minority. Thus a vote for the candidate for governor of that party might almost be counted as a vote thrown away.

Unquestionably Captain Fredericks is a representative man of the people. Directly affiliated with no faction, under obligation to no particular element, neither the partisan friend of capital nor the enemy of labor, he stands in a position to protect the community, as far as lies in the power of its chief executive, from undue encroachment by the selfish demands of the demagogue who would carry favor with the extremist of either element.

SHOULD RESPECT PARTY LINES.

The Republican party of California is without a candidate for Lieutenant Governor, that nomination having been purloined at the recent election by one Eshleman, a progressive. A movement is now on foot among the Republicans of the State to unite with Democrats in electing Jo V. Snyder, the Democratic nominee. The Times-Gazette will support the candidacy of Mr. Snyder and advises all Republicans to vote and work for him. Thousands of Democrats throughout the State have signified their intention of voting for Captain John D. Fredericks for governor and the Republicans are in duty bound to reciprocate by supporting the Democratic nominee for Lieutenant Governor.

Jo Snyder is known all over the California map, in the little remote places reached by the impress of his personality through his management of and part ownership in the well-known Morning-Union of Grass Valley, which is an old institution along the mother-lode mines. Mr. Snyder has here late Saturday, as to his views on the questions before the State parties he had this to say:

"Not one person in ten understands the present direct primary law. Election officers all over California showed themselves unable to fathom its many complications, a fact that is apparent from the badly mixed-up election returns. The law needs amending. Even Governor Johnson now tells the people that it should be nonpartisan. I agree with him. It is certainly a farce of a law that permits members of one party to seek and purloin other party nominations and so confuse the average voter that he votes blindly, not knowing who is who. Erase the party designation and make it a free for all scramble, just as we now vote for judicial, school and county officers.

"But if we are to have political parties let us amend the law so that a party candidate can receive only the nomination of the party he is registered with, or else make it entirely nonpartisan by wiping out the party designation.

"The feature of the law requiring so many signatures to get on the ballot is not only disgusting to the voter who is pestered to death with registration deputies, but it does not give a fair show to the poor man, who, like myself, cannot afford to pay fancy prices to secure signatures, while the rich man and the one with a powerful organization behind him can readily stand the tax and pay any price that is demanded.

"The Republican party, the dominant party of California, is confronted with the unprecedented situation of having its nominee for Lieutenant governor out campaigning against the election of its candidate for governor, a situation brought about through the machinations of a primary law enacted by a progressive administration. But the Republicans have one solace. They will have the same recourse in November they had two years ago. They have an opportunity of doing so again."

THE EUROPEAN WAR.

General Sherman was right, at least in his reference to war.

Picture the peasants tilling their fields and gardens, all happiness and peace. Then the opposing armies sweep over the country like an avalanche, spreading death and destruction. Crops and property destroyed. Towns that were monuments of medieval times are burned. Works of art by old masters long since dead, that are priceless, are lost. Think of the young men called to the front, the flower of rival nations, led to the sacrifice on the altar of Mars. Leaving, perhaps, old gray fathers and mothers, or maybe a bride of a short time, or possibly a family of small dependent children. Think of gazing on a field where the scourge of battle has just passed. Trenches filled with dead men, torn and mangled, to be disposed of by burning or thrown into a ditch and rudely covered, an unknown grave without a mark to show where it is or who it was that shed his life blood.

At the present moment the armies are at death grip; the English and the French in desperate conflict with the Germans on the west; the Germans and the Austrians struggling with the Russians on the east. Each army with every known implement of warfare, and everything that organization and brains can accomplish. Rival camps are bristling with guns of a heavy calibre. Not only is it a war of the earth and water, but of the air as well.

The rapid attack on Paris has apparently failed. Though checked, the Kaiser's army is not defeated. He has men, organization and equipment. What the final results will be no one can tell. How long the war will last and who will win are matters of conjecture. Some experts think that Germany will adopt a defensive attitude in France and throw her main strength against Russia. Others believe that they are preparing to continue the French invasion. In the mean time the mighty English fleet, so far rules the sea. But who knows but what some new instrument of warfare may render the ships obsolete.

We only know that it reflects little credit on our vaunted civilization that our advances in art and science are employed, not to increase the happiness of the race, but to destroy life and property.

Will Attend Bankers' Convention

L. P. Behrens of the First National Bank will depart on October 7th for Richmond, Virginia, to attend the annual meeting of the National Bankers' Association which convenes there about the middle of next month. Mr. Behrens will enjoy his annual vacation and in going south is combining business with pleasure. The Executive Council, of which Mr. Behrens is a member, will convene just before the opening of the association's meeting to arrange for the convention. It will also meet a short time after the convention adjourns to make arrangements for next year's meeting. It is quite a distinction to belong to the Executive Council, as only men prominent in banking circles of the country are eligible. Mr. Behrens will be absent for about three weeks.

New Delivery Plan.

After very careful consideration, the Capitol Market has decided it wise to abandon the town peddling meat wagons and install in its place an order wagon for the delivery of meat to its patrons. The order wagon will both call for orders and deliver same. Any residence in Redwood City having a phone and wishing delivery service will kindly let us know and we will call you up at a regular given time, either in the afternoon for the following early morning delivery or in the morning for a later delivery for the same day. The management will put the delivery service into effect October 1st, and will retire the town peddling wagon on the same date. H. L. Williams, proprietor, Successor to Maloney & Romea.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES.

Maloney & Romea desire to thank the public for its valued patronage in the past and solicit a continuance of the same to their successor, Mr. Williams. The firm requests all those having claims against the concern to present them at once.

Miss Jane Lane, who was operated upon for appendicitis at the Florence Ward hospital in San Francisco recently, arrived home yesterday much improved. She will be confined to her home for a week before she will be able to resume her duties in the recorder's office.

Thomas Tuite, proprietor of the Palace market, announces that beginning October 1st the peddling wagon operated in this city in connection with the market will be discontinued. For the convenience of former patrons of the wagon an order service will be substituted. Orders by telephone (Redwood 22) will receive prompt and careful attention.

Whist enthusiasts are looking forward to the progressive whist party to be given by the Fraternal Aid association in Forester's hall next Tuesday evening, September 29th. Nice prizes will be awarded and refreshments served after the game, and a social time of all is promised.

Patrons of the Bell theatre will be treated to several specials the coming week. For this evening "Neptune's Daughter," a gorgeous spectacle in seven parts, will be presented, the admission being 25 cents. On Monday the attraction will be a trained dog show, and on Tuesday the program will include Mary Pickford in "The Good Little Devil." On these two nights the prices will be 10 and 20 cents.
